Marathon Petroleum Corporation Overview

Marathon Petroleum Corporation (MPC) is the nation's third-largest refiner. With geographically and strategically aligned operations across the entire downstream value chain, MPC is an industry leader emphasizing safe and reliable operations. The company's extensive transportation and distribution assets and operations are distinguishing factors that separate it from other refining and marketing companies. This extensive logistical system allows MPC to optimize the supply of crude oil and other feedstocks into its approximately 1.8 million barrels per calendar day crude oil refining system and the distribution of refined products produced in these refineries.

MPC markets through two strong retail brand names: Speedway® and Marathon®. Speedway owns and operates the nation's second-largest convenience store chain, with approximately 2,770 locations in 22 states.

The Marathon brand is an established motor fuel brand in the Midwest and Southeast regions of the U.S., and is available through approximately 5,400 independently owned and operated retail outlets in 19 states. Through these brands and our wholesale business, MPC is a significant supplier in its market area.

MPC serves the Midwest, Northeast, East Coast, Southeast, and Gulf Coast as a petroleum products marketer, with 79 owned and operated light product and asphalt terminals. MPC owns, leases or has ownership interests in about 8,400 miles of pipeline.

With a long history dating back to the earliest years of the oil industry, MPC and its nearly 45,440 employees are focused on delivering value to our stakeholders and customers and look forward to continued success.
